2009 Class History

By Olivia Wandelear

MARCH 18, 2008

SOUTHBRIDGE - An extremely wise actor of our time once said, "I get older; they stay the same age..." Despite Matthew McConaughey's genius conviction, we, the Southbridge High School class of 2009, startlingly and swiftly grew up and certainly matured much sooner than any one of us had expected to.

We over-confidently stepped foot into Southbridge High during August of 2005 as one of the worst behaved classes SHS had seen in awhile. Proudly calling ourselves the fundamental reason for Freshman Academy's installment the following year, we spent much of our freshman year securing our legendary spot in SHS history in any way we could. Freshman elections quickly approached in September and while Rafy Medina made us all laugh with his hysterically apathetic campaign for Vice President, we appointed Jason Houatchanthara as President, Christine Gonzales as Vice President, Matt Losavio as Treasurer and, in our freshman wisdom, Jeff Frechette and Brendan Morrill as Secretary. Complications arose, about two weeks before the holiday, when our brand new advisors, Miss Kranz and Miss Pond, were notified of our first official business as a class, the Thanksgiving Day Rally skit and poster contest. The year's theme was "Safari," and, sticking to a freshman tradition, we miserably fell flat on our faces in front of the entire school during a skit that was supposed to resemble Fear Factor. A group of us wielded cardboard props and ate heaping plates of cold spaghetti on the cheerleading mats nearly ruining them. Though our very own Nate Power was chosen as Miss Turkey, making us all oddly proud, we earned ourselves last place in nearly every category of the day and went home even more embarrassed than we thought possible. The rest of our first year of high school flew by in a blur full of failed attempts at fundraisers and serious lack of confidence and maturity. We ended the year with a whopping -$400 to pay for the many expenses coming our way.

Many hoped and assumed our second year of high school's arrival would indicate slightly more success as a class. They were mostly wrong. Though we were granted a stellar new advisor, Miss Stankus, our negative attitude failed to diminish no matter how many words of encouragement we received. Looking to finally turn things around for the better, we appointed Courtney Salmon as President, Olivia Wandelear as Vice President, Rafy Medina as Treasurer, until he was kicked out of paint night and replaced with Matt Losavio, Jillian Gibeault as Secretary, and Kristen Houtchanthara and Katelynn Catsellani as Historian. Lackluster participation due to fear of embarrassment had most of the class stuck in a spell of déjà vu by the time Thanksgiving rolled around. The rally's theme that year was "Las Vegas" and after many ridiculous arguments over our skit, we chose CSI. A completely random group of sophomores spent a week writing and perfecting the worst episode of CSI imaginable that included an Indian and a lawnmower, but, unfortunately, lacked a point. No one in the class will forget that while our skit was being performed, we actually hid behind our gorgeous first place poster drawn by Katie, Jeff, and Brendan.

Despite our utter embarrassment over the rally, we still had a chance to redeem ourselves funding-wise through the annual Spring Semi-Formal. Though Matt made a great argument for calling the dance "Smack That," the rest of the committee chose a midnight garden-inspired theme that included Miss Pond's homemade chandeliers and about a thousand balloons. The semi was a success and we thankfully ended sophomore year with funds above $0 that were to be used to pay for the lavish prom we needed to start planning.

We proved the cliché saying "third time's a charm" when we finally reentered SHS as upperclassmen in 2007. We initially expected the year to begin wonderfully, until we were notified that we would be buying entirely new hoodless wardrobes thanks to the newly implemented ban. Along with these changes, Miss. Stankus became a Haire and Mrs. Bussiere hopped in to replace Miss Pond. With "B and Haire's" help, the Class of 2009's third year of high school was our best one yet. A great fundraiser suggested by Mrs. B at the beginning of the year supplied all of the funding we needed to pay for our prom. Led by President Veronica Carillo, Vice President Margaita Veras, and returning officers Treasurer Matt Losavio, Secretary Jillian Gibeault, and Historian Kate Castellani, we finally grew up. Sick of embarrassment in the fall and disappointment in the spring, we decided it was time to pull together as a class to secure that legendary spot in history before it was too late. Coming through with the promise they made the previous year, the football players actually made a surprise appearance for the first time ever in our Thanksgiving skits. Student Council chose "Dancing Through the Decades" as the theme and we unanimously voted to create our own version of Grease decked out in poodle skirts and 50's style cheerleading uniforms. We performed the hand-jive out on the field during our second bonfire. Meagan and Kate choreographed a stellar dance routine while football and soccer players donned painfully tight girl's skinny jeans as the Indians and T-Birds. Paired with human bowling pins and yet another beautiful poster, we were certainly robbed of first place. Despite this slight disappointment, our spirits were still high as spring approached and prom rolled around. Our "Bella Notte," an italian inspired and themed affair was a huge success, despite Matt again nominating "Smack That" as the name. For the first time ever, we ended a year on a fantastic note, anxiously waiting the year to come.

The summer between Junior and Senior year was plagued with about twenty-five pounds of mail for each one of us that urged choosing a college immediately. We were sorely mistaken when we assumed senior year would be a walk in the park. For the first three months of school, SAT's and college applications consumed most of our time. After contracting Senioritis, we were beginning to wonder if June would ever come. With elected officers Victor Martinez as President, Margarita Veras as Vice President, Matt Losavio as Treasurer, Katelynn Castellani as Secretary and Meagan Quigley as Historian, the year flew by quicker than we had expected it to. In true Senior tradition, when Thanksgiving came around, we took first placed in all of the events during Spirit Week. The rally's premise was "Disney" and we appropriately chose The Lion King as our award winning theme. The boys had the entire school laughing with their extravagant choreography to "Man, I Feel Like a Woman." After college deadlines came and went, scholarship deadlines approached and we were well into spring. After our last prom, we looked forward to our extremely exciting and lengthy day trip as a class to Six Flags for our last rendezvous together.

As June approaches, Graduation looms closer and closer as we prepare to break free from the high school circuit and embark on our journeys as independent men and women. Leaving SHS will be hard for some, but knowing we ultimately left our footprints in the sand of successful high school history will ease that pain. We leave behind our legacy...

♥ I can't wait to move on with my life! I'll always appreciate Mr.Haire's quirky humor and Mr.Smalley's witty little sayings. Virginia Beach was so much fun! I loved taking pictures in class and I'll miss laughing with Jennifer. Everyone says I make them laugh and I enjoy it. I still can't stand getting up in the morning. The future's going to love me. I'm a breath of fresh air. I love painting, makeup and taking pictures. I'll find a carreer I love, even though I'm yet to find it! ♥ ♪♫ I love Sublime, Regina Spektor, Andrew Bird and Built to Spill. ♪♫

Do I have any regrets?

Nope, I believe everything happens for a reason.

What is my favorite quote?

"Live, Love, Laugh." and "Live life to the fullest."

What I'll never forget:

Cassie, Sam and I were walking back from McDonald's when Cassie slipped and fell flat on her butt and slid down the sidewalk. Then, these guys pulled over, yelled down the window pointed at her and started laughing hysterically. I went to go help her up but, I was laughing so hard that I fell too.

My besties:

Cassie Gina
Kelvin Christine

Memories

In the end, it's not the years in your life that count; it's the life in your years.

Margarita Veras

Gina Marie Vongratsamy

I never thought my high school years would fly by this fast. It took a lot of hard work and dedication, but in the end it was all worth it. My teachers and guidance counselors helped me along the way, and I can't thank them enough. But, high school is nothing without friends. They've been there for me through everything and guided me to the right path.

I'll never forget what I've learned at Southbridge High.

I've learned a lot about myself and who I am as an individual.

To all the underclassmen in the future years: There's a big world out there, bigger than prom, bigger than high school, and it won't matter if you were the prom queen or the quarterback of the football team, or even the biggest nerd. Find out who you are and try not to be afraid of it.

Success

To laugh often and much;
To win the respect of intelligent people and the
affection of children;
To earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure the
betrayal of false friends;
To appreciate beauty, to find
the best in others;
To leave the world a bit better,
whether by a healthy child, a garden patch or a redeemed
social condition;
To know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived.
This is to have succeeded.

Matthew,
We are so proud of all that you have achieved. You are wished a lifetime of success!
Love,
Daddy, Mommer, Nicole, Joe, Brittani-Lee,
Rebecca, Nana, Grandma and Uncle Mark

Scottie,
I cannot believe the time has come for your graduation. You made it. You are about to step out into the world with knowledge (some at least), and a sense of who you are, and what you want out of life. Do not let anyone tell you that you cannot do anything (unless it is dad yelling, "NOT IN THE HOUSE!" Silly old man). We love you very much. We will always be here for you when you need us, and the door will always be open. We are so very proud of you

All Our Love,
Mom and Dad

I knew you could do it. Ride safely-- you deserve it!

Scottie!!!
I told you that you could make it. No matter what you do in life, I know you will go far and we will always be there for you. Never give up on what you believe in because of what others may think. You know who you are and there is no one else I would rather you be. I love you and wish you the best of luck.

Love, Jenn

Hold on to what is good even if it is a handful of earth;
Hold on to what you believe even if it is a tree which stands by itself;
Hold on to what you must do even if it is a long way from here;
Hold on to our hands even when we have gone away from you.
- Nancy Wood, Many Winters

Alli,
Walk confidently in the direction of your dreams.
Love, Dad, Carmie, & Kris

Meagan,

Congratulations! We are so proud of you. You have grown into a wonderful young woman. We wish you all the happiness and success in the future.

Much Love,
Mom, Dad, Matthew,

Bobby,
We can't believe it is time for you to graduate! These four years have passed by quickly. We know that you can be successful at whatever goals you set forth yourself. Our hope for you and our belief in you are exceeded only in our love for you.

Congratulations-You Did It!
All of our love,
Mom, Brian and Jenn

Our Precious Katie

KATIE

You've grown so fast from our beautiful baby
to a beautiful young woman.
Along the way, you
worked hard, you tried
new things,
you took chances and
you made positive
choices.
you've achieved so much,
as we always knew you would.
Now it's time to nurture your gift
and become who you were born to be!

Congratulations! We are so proud to call you our daughter!
May God Bless You always.

All our love,

PROPHECY

It is May 2029. The class of 2009 gathers in Genoa, Italy, for the launching of a new fleet of Pioneer cruise ships designed by Brendan Morrill and owned by Jeff Frechette. Brendan has invited the class of 2009 to join him on the Pioneer 9's maiden voyage. Co-captains Enid Melendez and Christian Lavallee and their crew which, included Nora Escobar and Johannys Morales, welcome the members of the class of 2009 as they assemble to christen the ship. Special guest, former Principal Mr. William Bishop performs the opening ceremony. Former members of the Southbridge High Band--Cindy Barrios, Courtney Salmon, and Matthew Thomas Earl Losavio, and the conductor of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, Kristen Houatchanthara—provide the celebratory fanfare while the champagne is smashed against the hull.

Among the alumni boarding the ship are a number of celebrities. First to arrive is Dariana Orta the star of a new talk show "Orta" accompanied by her producer Kayla Lopez. "So You Think You Can Dance" champion Kelvin Maldonado prances in with American Idol finalist Debora Rivera and runner-up Christine Gonzalez. Walking in behind them are Thomas Joyce III, who miraculously discovered the cure for AIDS, and Katie Mrazik, owner of a clothing line primarily made of bright pants. The wrestling master Kevin Quinn strolls in and immediately greets his old friend, Jason Houatchanthara. Jason never did pursue hismedical career, but owns a very successful joke shop. These members and many more arrive and take a seat in the ceremonial dining hall.

The reunion commences with the opening remarks given by Victor Martinez, our senior class president and now an Army General. He welcomes the first guest speaker, Katelynn Castellani, a notable engineer. Katelynn speaks of how she aided Brendan with the mathematical calculations needed to construct the ship. Jose DeLeon dribbles his basketball up to the podium and talks about his experiences on the Boston Celtics Team. Renowned chefs, Dores Bounphasaysonh, Reeva Thomas, and Margaret Jubin, serve the Captain's meal. The class eats a nostalgic chicken tender dinner before the dancing begins. The food was delicious, but as usual Alli, the radiologist complains of "problems" because the salad was coated with Italian dressing. Jordan Garcia puts his DJ skills to work and Angel Santiago leads the procession of people boogying on the dance floor. Meanwhile, Meagan Quigley roams around the floor trying to sell her new clothing line.

Suddenly, the ship lurches to a halt. The co-pilot of the ship, Christian Lavallee, signals a code red. "The ship is being hijacked by a group of Somalian pirates." Omer Rafiq, the leader of the pirates, accompanied by Jordy Garcia, Gio Pena, Danny Mercado, and Angel Colon, are scaling the starboard side. The mood turns from calmness to calamity. As per her usual, Christine Gonzalez screams and frightens poor Yahaira Medina. Ever the hippy, Amanda Stratton tries to bring peace on the ship by reciting the Peace Builder pledge from elementary school.

Old friends, Nate Power, the master delivery man, Cody Lamay, tutor at Sylvan Learning Center, and Tyler Ramsey, the New Engalnd Patriots star quarterback unite to save the day. They rip off their suits and prepare to fight in their speedos. Rafael Medina and T-Stark, aka Tyler Stark, a new pop singer, return from a joy ride on a boat with T-pain. To their surprise, the ship is under attack. Rafy, a chemical engineer, quickly creates a super-sonic, quantum de-coherent air propulsion machine. Jeffrey Latour, Joe Paul, Scott Lynch, and Bobby Cusson, experienced members of a secret SWAT team, rush the Somalians to distract them while Rafy uses his device to render the pirates immobile. While the rest of the pirates are defeated, Omer Rafiq makes a last ditch effort to escape by detonating a small bomb. The explosion fills the air with smoke concealing Omer leaving in his ecscape boat. The bomb unintentionally makes a hole in the ship's hull. Captain Enid rushes to the Intercom and announces "The boat is going down! We must all jump ship!" They evacuate the ship and board life rafts. One raft is occupied by Margarita Veras, a probation officer; Janexia Rivera, an Air Force fighter pilot; Veronica Carillo, a forensic scientist; and Iris Gonazalez a veterinarian. They paddle around swiftly rescuing other members of the class not yet in a life boat.

They pick up Olivia Wandelear, a journalist for the Boston Globe; Iesha Loconto, a nurse at Boston Children's Hospital; and Cassie Comtois, coroner. A different boat filled with Jillian Gibeault, a marine biologist; Corinne Jourdenais, a pharmaceutical technician; Jennifer Davison, a ER doctor; and Shana Harvey, a survivalist, travel to the nearby island to set up triage.

At the island, they rendezvous with Marissa Brunell, the secretary of the new Southbridge High School who is taking inventory of the supplies. Yashira Calimano, a bio-physicist, Jennifer Martinez, a chiropractic technician, and Krysta Rivera, a treasure hunter, scour the beach for survivors.

As the rest of the passengers reach the island Kristian Rivera, host of America's Most Wanted; Nataly Rodriguez, a politician; and Gina Sirivongxay, an archeologist, find Omer's getaway boat near a cove down the beach. Alexandra Rodriguez, a theoretical physicist; Ashley Rupert, a photographer; and Angel Vazquez, a world champion bowler, volunteer to find Omer. They travel through the complex cove with the help of Celinette Ortiz, a professional tracker.

They meet up with another team consisting of Vontailin Rosario, a dentist; Alicia Rosado, an astronaut; Edwin Rivera, an accountant; Gina Vongratsamy, The Hill's "Happy Trash Collector"; and Alexandra Rivera, a b-list actress, who have already taken up the task of finding Omer. They join forces and eventually find a secret cave which shows evidence of human habitation. They travel into the cave and spy Omer and Andrew Benoit conferring in a secret lair. Andrew spots them and calmly explains that he is behind this entire "Scan-da-list" scheme. They demand an explanation. Andrew snaps belligerently to the team, "It's your own fault. Had you invited me to the reunion, I wouldn't have had to the crash the party!" Celinette, who was in charge of invitations said, "Hold on a minute! It's not our fault! The reason you didn't get an invitation was because when you defected from the United States, you left no forwarding address. There was no way we could have invited you." Andrew realizes that his actions were somewhat irrational and that maybe he did overreact. To make amends, he invites the class of 2009 to remain on his private island until they are rescued.

As the class members was ashore, Marissa Brunell takes attendance. Olivia assures the group that she will memorialize the event in a story she will write for the Globe. The Pioneeer 9's owner, Jeff Frechette, contracts with Andrew, Brendan, and Katelyn to begin engineering the Pioneer 10 so that the class could reunite in 2039 for another eventful voyage.
